CHEERFUL CHIRPS

(By "DEL")

Mostly nonsense, except in those rare intervals when a real idea comes along and is grabbed off.

Colder weather doesn't seem to interfere with the freedom our women show in dressing. They certainly can bear a lot.

But, as "Rimmy" Jim Giddings remarks, they can't bare any more than we can bear.

A young woman who lived on Leroux Stopped over to tie up her shoux; A man coming behind—Evidently not blind, Said, "Dear, your garter's loose toux."

They meant business in the old days, as attested by the following advertisement from The Sun by a sheepman named Patterson:

"It has come to the knowledge of the undersigned that a sheep owner not far away is buying all the stray sheep he can get. Therefore to make it interesting to certain parties who manage to live and never do any work I offer a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of anyone unlawfully handling any of my sheep. A thief left to stink on the trail will count as a conviction."

Speaking of the way customs change, Ray Babbitt recalls the time when you could buy bear and antelope meat in the Babbitt meat department about as regularly as you could beef or mutton.

Here's another Flagstaff school girl's essay from the old files of The Sun:

"The Boy is not an animal, yet he can be heard a considerable distance. When Boy hollers he opens his mouth like a frog, but girls hold their tongue till they are spoke to, and they answer respectable and tell just how it was. A Boy thinks he is clever because he can wade where it is deep, but God made the dry land for every living thing, and rested on the seventh. When the Boy grows up he's called a husband and stays out nights, but the grew up girl is a widow and keeps house."

M. T. Connors, rancher out west of here, is a philosopher able to get a kick out of hard luck. He says that his breaking his hip recently was no indication that Dame Fortune was smiling at him, but proved that her daughter, Miss Fortune, was.

Bucko's usually polite But I hear that the other night He went up higher'n a kite.

A stranger said, "Can you t-tell M-e w-where's the best hotel?" And Bucko drove away pell mell.

When asked why such a thing he did, He said, "S-say I-listen, kid, D'ja t-think I want to l-lose my lid?" —P. S. Coffin.

"Does beat all how fond some fellow's wife's relatives are of him," mused Jim Warnock. "Just can't do enough for him. Why, I know a fel-

U. S. VETERANS' BUREAU IN "CLEAN-UP" DRIVE TO VISIT FLAGSTAFF

"Take the bureau to the man" is the new policy of the U. S. veterans' bureau (consolidated bureau of war risk insurance). In carrying out this policy, the bureau is sending a traveling clean-up squad through California, Arizona and Nevada for the purpose of considering claims of all disabled ex-service men and women for compensation, vocational training, medical treatment or insurance.

The itinerary includes Flagstaff, Monday, February 20; Williams, Tuesday, February 21; Jerome, Thursday, February 23.

The biggest potatoes of the year, weighing two to five pounds each, were served on the Foch-American Legion special en route from Minneapolis to the Pacific coast. The spuds were so big that they required an hour and a half in the baking. The biggest of the tubers was served to Marshal Foch, whose amazement was evident.

Training allowance for sick and wounded ex-service men will not be reduced twenty per cent, according to C. E. Forbes, director of the veterans' bureau, who has informed the American Legion that this move never had been considered. Ninety per cent of the 100,000 disabled men now being trained receive $100 a month.

Three French war brides confronted Marshal Foch when the American Legion special stopped in St. Maria, Idaho. They were crying. "We love America, but oh! how we are lonesome for France," they sobbed.

"Never forget France," Foch replied, "but you must love your new home and honor your husband."

But the Marshal had to blow his nose hard.

Ex-service men of the world war who want to be first, second or third class U. S. postmasters are to be given a five per cent advance on their civil service ratings and credit for time spent in service. President Harding's executive order putting the provision into effect was recently promulgated at the instance of the American Legion.

Receipts from the entertainments given by posts of the American Legion or its auxiliaries are not taxable under the new revenue law passed by the extra session of the 67th congress. Such receipts, even when the proceeds of the entertainments were given for charitable purposes, were taxable under the entertainments tax of the old revenue law.

"If pardon is granted to Debs or others fairly convicted of treason or sedition during a time when the nation's very life was at stake, the lives of those boys who lie on the fields of France and those who lie broken in hospitals have indeed been sacrificed in vain," Hanford MacNider, commander of the Legion, has telegraphed President Harding, requesting that "no leniency be shown those traitors who stabbed us in the back while we were giving our all to this country."

Fifteen cents buys a meal for needy ex-service men and families at the American Legion restaurant, Toledo. The menu includes steak or pork chop, potatoes, bread, butter, and coffee. The difference between the cost of the food and the price at the counter is made up by the employed Legionnaires.

When Marshal Foch returns to New York on December 14 to sail for France on the liner "Paris," he will have traveled 16,000 miles, visited 42 states, and stopped at 200 cities and towns. He made his 245th speech at Richmond, Va., before starting west and had received the degree of LL.D. from 21 American universities.
